Of the Most Popular Officer of the National Guard

of New York and New Jersey.

PRICE ONE CENT.

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1889.

FILLING THE GAP. AROUSED BY FIRE. GET OUTYOUR FURS. HER

the Guarantee Fund.

gress Opens. "The World's" Canvass Leagues Ahead Blazing Grease Drives Tenants from

of All Other Newspapers.

The World's Fair Gusrantee Fund is rapidly approaching completion, only a trifle over $200,000 now being wanted to make up the Collis P. Huntington and Alfred Corning Clark have each subscribed $25,000, and a few more such sums will close the fund with a rush. There are sev ral members of the Finance Committee get to be heard from, and their pledges will do considerable towards ending the

The total amount subscribed to date reaches 84,044,435, and there are five more days be-seph Pulitzer Goodstine, pawabroker, No. 2108 3d ave. Gustavus Giroux, woodenware manufacturer, No. 212 East Peter Verrath, grocer, No. S1 East W. Spires, fish murket, No. 2251 3d nve...

137th at . Earnest Horchheimer, grocer, No.

2021 Lexington ave Herman Kahn, dry goods, No. 2188-90 3d ave .. Herman Molan, liquors, No. 87 East 110th st. Churles H. Althaus, druggist, No.

Charles Manning, Jr., No. 321 East

93d st. and West Beulevard Ribard Bress, bearding-stable, No. 271 West S7thst. John II. Howe, crockery, No. 204 East 120th st ... olm N. Loeser, carriage-builder, Boulevard, between 82d and 83d

John Hait, liquors, W. Bonlevard, W. Benleverd . Greige Cook, feed store, No. 249 West 80th st. Daniel Ragers, plumber, W. Houevard, between 80th and 81st Fred Meire, No. 441 East 9th st .. Courad Elser, No. 292 West 116th

A stactal "Erminic" matines will be given at the Cacano this afternoon, the proceeds to be given to the Grarantee Fund. The Orphan Hone Board of Trustees have given their consent to have a portion of their tuds in Westchaster County used for the Expo-sition. The terms will be agreed upon to-day. This decision was arrived at upon the report of Rev. Morgan Dix that the buildings in course of construction on the grounds would be ready in Autumn, 1890.

THE WEST WANTS TO SEE IT.

Big Purses Offered There for the Sullivan and Jackson Mill.

[ISPECIAL TO THE WOILD.]

SAN FRANCIS O, NOV. 26.—The Pacific Coast is not only anxious but appears to be determined to have Sullivan and Jackson decide on this side of the Pockies the dispute as to which is the better man. On the heels of the offer of a wealthy citizen of San José to give a fifteen-thousand-dollar purse to have the contest take place before the recognized athletic club of the Garden City come several other favorable offers. Seattle, in the new State of Washington, is to the front with a proposition from rich men there to raise a purse of $20,000 for the clampion and the Australian if they will consent to settle the mill near that city. In this competition the following desmatch was sent its short speech and gained a friend in every one of his bearers. wealthy citizen of San José to give a fifteenthousand-dollar purse to have the contest take place before the recognized athletic club of the Garden City come several other favorable offers.
Seattle, in the new State of Washington, is to the front with a proposition from rich men there to raise a purse of $20,000 for the champion and the Australian if they will consent to settle the mill near that city. In this connection the following despatch was sent this svening by T. F. Townsley, of this city, to John L. Sullivan at Boston:
Seattle thas raised a purse of $20,000, which will Seattle thas raised a purse of $20,000, which will

Seattle has raised a purse of $20,000, which will except to the winner of the Sullivan-Jackson fight, revided the mill takes place at or near Seattle within nine months.

within nine months.

San Diego also makes an offer. There is a large amphitheatre in Tiajuana, Lower Californis, where bull-fights are held. Ten thousand people can be seared there, and the sports down that way also intend offering $20,000 to Mcsara. Sullivan and Jackson to decide their respective merits inst over the American line. The San Diego aports are thinking of making an offer to the California Athletic Club to release Jackson from his contract. If they get the mill they propose to charge only $5 a ticket to spectators.

lators.

Then there is a proposition that has emanated from the brains of Sage Brush State shorts to build a big raft of logs over an acre square and float it in Lake Tahoe. In the centre of the raft they propose to have a pit 24 rect square, tamped down with earth, and a tent over it to keep off the raws of the sun; the raft to be anchored on the State line and only holders of one-hundred-dollar tickets to see the mill. The situation of the raft, it is urged, would prevent the authorities of either State from interfering.

From San Francisco by Wagon.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.] POUGHEREISIE, N. Y., Nov. 26 .- P. Moyett. the resides in San Francisco, arrived yesterday and put up at the Northern Hotel. He came all the way with a pair of hor-es, a buggy and a folite dog. He left San Francisco one year ago ast September and travelled steadily 120 days, teraining the riv miles a day, which brought in to St. Louis. After leaving there he travilled more slowly. On his way littler he passed brough seventeen States and Territories. He a wilower, about fifty-five years old, and has we married children. His team is composed of black and a roan, and they draw a top buggy. It met with no mishap during the long journey.

Mangled to Death in the Wreck. Massillon, O., Nov. 26,—A collision occurred esterday on the Cleveland, Lorsine and Sheeling Railroad at Flushing between a coal train and the work train. A. H. Myers, engineer of the coal train, was manufed to death. His frechan escaped. Jerry Page, benductor, and Charles Heest, engineer of the work train, were seriously injured. Two other trainment were also scriously hurt. Both engines were runned beyond repair and twenty care were piled up as high as the telegraph poles.

Only $300,000 Now Needed to Complete | Three Tenement-Houses Threatened with | New Yorkers May Expect a Taste of Zero Destruction This Morning.

It Will Be Completed When Con- A Pet Dog Saves the Lives of A Cold Wave from Dakota Sweep-Many People.

Their Beds,

Shortly after midnight this morning fire broke out in Frederick Bachman's grocery store on the ground floor of the four-story tenement-house, 520 East Twelfth street.

A pet dog owned by William Brundick, who keeps a cigar store adjoining the grocery, awoke his master by barking, and Mr. Brundick in turn aroused the thirteen families in the house, and the usual scene of panic followed.

The frightened tenants fled to the roof or to the street, scantily clad, and dragging their children or other valuable possessions with

Throughout all the din and confusion, Henry Bachmar, brother of the prorietor, was asseep in a little room in the rear of the asseep in a little room in the rear of the grocery.

The firemen kicked in the door and dragged Henry from his bed, half-suffocated and too sleepy to be frightened.

All the groceries were consumed and about a thousand dollars' worth of damage done.

Three hours later August Schnopf, employed in John Schaler's bakery in the basement of 150 Stanton street, another large tenement-house, upset a pan of grease in the fire, and in an instant the basement was in flames.

Shaler went out an alarm while his man aroused the teorants, about seventy-five in number, who; like the Twelfth street people, flet to the roof and street with hardly any covering.

On the floor over the bakery lived Mrs. Hally with her hundand and aged mother.

The old lady is eighty-three years old and was rendered powerless by fright and weakness and had to be carried out by the men.

Others had a job handing Mrs. Schellenberg, who lay sick on the top floor, up through the cuttle.

Two hundred dollars will cover the loss of cuttle. Two hundred dollars will cover the loss of property.

The second floor flat in the apartment house. 101 East Fighty-sixth street, occupied by Patrick St. John, caught fire shortly befor 6 oclock this morning. Damage amounting to $300 was done.

The tenants who were just getting ready to get up were hurried rather more than is usual. Henry Luser ownes the house.

TURNER'S LONE RUN

No One Willing to Oppose Him in the Sixth Congress District.

Iceman Turner is running well for Congress in the Sixth District.

Within twenty-four hours after the proposal of his name there were a half dozen candidates in the field against him. They imagined that it would be an easy thing to beat an iceman. a week has passed. The half dozen confident men have stolen around and got a glimpse of 10 | the humble iceman and heard him talk, and the result is that not one of the six will admit to-day that the idea of entering the lists against Turner had ever occurred to them. Turner is magnetic, and though he has been pictured as a simple iceman, those who listen to to him realize how much meaning there is to the fact that the savines from his $19 a t tend as a peddier of ice were used to carry the total as a peddler of new were used to carry him through two years at Columbia College.

Roswell P. Flower is one of the many attached to the candidate, and has sent his personal check for $500 to Charles H. Turner.

Characteristically, however, the iceman said:

"Mr. Flower did not intend that $500 for me personally. He believes in the cause, of which I am only the representative in this canvass."

And so he turned the check over to the Tammany organizations of the district, to be used in defraying the legitimate expenses of the canvass.

one of his hearers.

To-night he will address a mass-meeting in Abingdon Square.

THE DELEGATES SEATED.

The Pan-American Congress Accepts

Brazil's Representatives. WASHINGTON, Nov. 26,-Twenty-eight delegates were present yesterday when the International American Conference was called o order. Dr. Zegarra, of Peru, presided. The temporary Secretary, Dr. Guzman, read the report of the Committee on Credentials passing favorably upon the credentials of the Brazilian delegates and of Mr. Cornelius Biss.

Delegate Nin (Uruguar) wished to know whether the Brazilian credentials emanated from the Imperial or the Republican Govern-ment.

Dr. Valente, the Brazilian Minister, said:

"We are here representing the Government of Brazil."

We are here representing the Government of Brazil."
Delegate Alphonso (Chili) proposed the acceptance of the report. Without objection, and with some applause, the report was adopted and the Brazilian delegates seated.
F. G. Piera and H. Rau-om Whitehouse were chosen Secretaries. Mr. Whitehouse is a citizen of New York, and is at present Secretary of Legation at Mexico. Mr. Piera is the representative of the Spanish-American Commercial Union, ard is also from New York. Mr. Whitehouse is absent from the city, but will be here is a lew days. The Conference next resumed the consideration of the rules, and this consumed the time until adjournment.

Done to Death in an Oven. CANTON, Mass., Nov. 26,-James H. Carney was employed on the day gang in the Kinsley Iron and Machine Works. For some reason he went to the oven Saturday afternoon, without the knowledge of his fellow-workmen, and was shut in when the day gang quit work. The oven was not opened again until 2 o'clock Sunday morning, when the right gang discovered the impresented man, who was still alive, but unconscious. He was almost completely baked. His tiesh was torn from his hands in his desperate efforts to free himself from his prison. He remained in an unconscious condition until his death yesterday.

Cases of Wonk Stomach, Indigentien, Dyspopsia, relieved by Carter's Little Liver Pills. .

Weather To-Night.

ing Towards the Coast.

New Weather Signal for Shipping-Masters and Others,

A sharp fall of 18 degrees in the temperature this morning sent pedestrians hustling abou town in a much livelier manner than for some

The thermometer registered 3316 degrees this morning, and Sergt. Dunn, the wise ma of the Weather Bureau, says it will be colder to-night. He advised people to get out their fur-lined

It was somewhat colder in all parts of the country to-day, except in the Southern States east of the Mississippi. The cold wave still hovers over the West, and in Dakota the mercury is below zero. Here in New York the weather grew slightly warmer as the morning

It will grow colder, though, as night approaches, and it is more than probable the temperature will fall one or two degrees below freezing point.

The coldest point in the United States was at Fort Buford, Dak. During the night the mer-Fort Buford, Pak. During the night the mercury fell to 2 degrees below zero, but recovered to 4 degrees above.

Sergt, Dunn predicts clear, cold weather for the next few days, and says that we should have very little wet weather up to New Year's.

The rainfall this Autumn has been greatly over the average.

In obedience to the wishes of a number of sailing masters, ship-captains and others interested in navigation, the chief signal officer has adouted a new signal, to be known as the "information signal." It will come into use on Dec. 1.

Dec. 1.
It is a yellow pennant of the same size as the red and white pennants (wind direction signal), and when displayed indicates that a storm is raging slong some part of the coast not necessarily in this district. All information concerning such storm may be obtained by applying to the Weather Bureau.

The Hecla Iron Foundry Completely Destroyed by Fire.

Nearly one thousand men are out of employment to-day, their means of livelihood having North Tenth, Eleventh and Berry streets, in Brooklyn, at a late hour last night.

How the fire occured has not yet been discovered. The watchman says he heard an explosion while he was sitting in the office of the Eleventh street building, and upon running into the foundry found the floor on fire. He hastily sent out an alarm, which was soo repeated by the policeman on post, and a third alarm was sent out by Chief Smith, who arrived on the scene soon after the first alarm.

Twelve engines poured streams of water on the flere flames, and after nearly three hours' hard work the flames were under control.

The burned building, which is one in six, was five stories high and has a frontage of 150 feet on North Tenth street. It was almost entirely destroyed.

destroyed.

The works are owned by N. Poulson, M. Eger and P. E. I. Ellis. They are the makers of the huge iron columns used in the construction of the new Pulitzer Building.

Fortunately, a number of these columns were stored in the North Eleventh street building and were only slightly damaged by water. A large number of other valuable patterns were destroyed.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. There was nothing explosive stored in the burned building, and only sand and sand-moulds were in the neighborhood of where the explosion is said to have occurred.

neighborhood of where the explosion is said to have occurred.

The actual loss by the fire is estimated at $200,000, but this cannot be confirmed until a thorough examination is made.

The greatest loss will be through the firms inability to keep their contracts, which will lose to them an immense sum.

The foundry was one of the largest in Brooklyn, and has furnished work for the Equitable and other large buildings in this city.

POWDERLY WILL FIGHT.

And a One-Cent Assessment Will Help Him in the Conspiracy Case.

PITTSBURG, Ps., Nov. 26,-John Costello, the Pittsburg member of the Knights of Labor Executive Board, returned yesterslay. Speaking of the charges of comparacy made against General Master Workman Powderly, Peter Wise and ex-Representative John R. Byrne, by ex-Representative Edward Callaghan, of Scottdale, Pa., he said: "Mr. Powderly has conclusive evidence that Austin Corbin and the Reading Railroad is back of the charger. A cent assessment has been levied on every member of the Knights of Labor in order to raise a sufficient fund to fight the case. If lost in the lower courts, the suit will be carried to the Supreme Court, which many think is the only place where justice can be obtained by Mr. Powderly.

"The assessment will not be sent out as a general order, and ostensibly will not be collected as a fund to defend Mr. Powderly, but nevertheless this is what the money will be used for. Mr. Powderly knew the charges were to be brought before they were really made. A year amount of interesting evidence has been collected by Knights of Labor lawyers who were working on the case before the suit was instituted. The hearing will be waived Nov. 30 The charges were brought as the result of Callaghan's defeat for re-election." back of the charges. A cent assessment has

A Banner for the Plasterers. The men of the "bawk and trowel" ceiebrated Evacuation Day in a truly patriotic manner. Tammany Hall was gay with the Stars and Stripes, and over the platform was a portrait of George Washington, illuminated by gas jets forming the words "New York Operative Plan terers." Most of the Society's 2,300 members were present, with their waves and daughters. Gen, Butterfield, escorted by James Crawford, Chairman of the Reception Committee, and Stephen M. Wright, with Pairick Grimes. Presi-Gen. Butterfield, escorted by James Crawford, Chairman of the Reception Committee, and Stephen M. Wright, with Parick Grimes, President of the Society, followed by members of the Civic Centennial Committee and officers of the Society marched into the hall. Daniel Walford, the oldest member of the Union, presented the Society marched into the hall. Daniel Walford, the oldest member of the Union, presented the Society and short, pithy speech, presented to the Society a handsome silk banner, richly embrodered. On the front, which was orange-colored silk, was inscribed the fact that it was in commemoration of the Centennial Celebration, and on the reverse was the name of the Society and the state the second of the Centennial Celebration, and on the reverse was the name of the Society and the state that it was awarded for "its bearing in the civic and industrial parade," May 1.

Judge-elect James Fitzgerald made a short, patriotic oration, and patriotic songs were sung by John Connolly and John Brew.

Hanna Southworth's First Public Appearance Since She Murdered Major Pettus.

Coroner Levy Begins the Inquest into Friday's Awful Tragedy.

Crowds Lined the Route from the Tombs to the Court-House.

The Prisoner Pale but Unmoved, and Occasionally Smiling.

Witnesses Delayed Owing to a Conflict of Jurisdiction with the Grand Jury.

When Mrs. Hanna Southworth, the murderess of Major Stephen L. Pettus, swoke this morn-ing in her cell in the Tombs she was seemingly been suddenly taken from them by the fierce her appearance and declared his opinion that fire which destroyed the Heela Iron Foundry, at she would be able to stand the excitement of the rublic examination with int serious results.

It was after 10 o'clock when she began to prepare herself for leaving the Tombs for the Court-House, and she did this with great deliberation.

She was attired in the same brown walking suit, fur-trimmed cloak and bonnet which she wore when she was arrested after killing Pettus.

AWAITED BY A CROWD. A crowd of curiosity-seekers had gathered about the side entrance of the Tombs in Frank-lin street, where the cab which had been en-gaged by I awyer Howe was standing waiting to Other crowds lined the sidewalks on Centre and Chambers streets to the door of the new and Chambers streets to the door of the new court-house.

About 10, 40 Mrs. Southworth appeared, accompanied by Mrs. Howe and Capt. McLaughlin. She was so closely veiled that her features could not be distinguished. The party immediately entered the cab and drove down Centre street towards the Court-House.

Long before 11 o'clock, the hour set for the inquest, the Special Term room of the Court of Common Pieas, which had been secured for the proceedings, was crowded with an eager and expectant throng of spectators.

THE COURT-BOOM PACKED. Every bit of standing room as well as the seating accommodations had been gobbled up before the arrival of the prisoner, and out in the corridor there was a crowd drawn up in double line extending all the way from the door to the stairways in the centre of the building.

When Mrs. Southworth arrived there was a stir and bustle on all sides and necks were craned in every direction to set a look at her.

She had been met at the Court-House by her mother and brother, W. B. Martin, and they all went unstairs together.

PALE, BUT UNMOVED.

PALE, BUT UNMOVED. Mrs. Southworth had removed her veil, and as she entered the court-room she did not betray the slightest emotion. Her face was very paic with the exception of a faint pink spot upon each cheek.
She looked about her calmly and did not flinch before the steady gaze of the two hundred or more people that met her eyes, which shone with what seemed an unnatural brightness.

SURPRISE AT HER COOLNESS. Every one marvelled at the strange coolness of the woman. When she had taken her seat at the table beside her counsel, Mr. Howe, she fining back her fur-trimmed cloak and settled herself comfortably in her chair without appar-ently the slightest concern for her surround-

EVEN A SMILE NOW AND THEN. As the crowd continued to watch her it was observed that at intervals just the faintest smile would fit scross her face.

Among those who were present were Mr. Pollard, the partner of Major Pettus, Lawver Johnson and other friends of the Pettus family. They sat right behind Mrs. Southworth.

The District Attorney's office was represented by ex-Judge Gunning S. Bedford, PROMINENT JULYMES. The following inters were summoned by the Ceroner:

William R. Grace, E. J. Denning, Herman Octrichs, Leo Schesinger, Samuel Jacoby, Bernard Sands, Herman Habis, Charles C. Burke, Charles G. Wilson, Samuel M. Schaefer, George S. Williams, A. Schener, Otto Von Borris, Louis J. Heintz aud William Grewel.
Of those there were impanelled William Grevel, Charles G. Wilson, Samuel Jacoby, Adolph A. Scheuer, F. J. Denning, Samuel M. Shafer, Julius Stich, Bernard Sands, Andrew Stauf, Herman Geitner, Simon L. Deutsch, Otto von Barries.
WITNESSES MISSING. The following jurors were summoned by the Witnesses Missing.

When the Coroner called for Officer Goodwin, the policeman who made the arrest, to take the witness-stand there was no response; and a call for Capit. McLoughlin mot with a like result. Coroner Levy looked as black as a thunder-cloud and called upon Judge Bedford to explain things.

SCOOTED BY THE GRAND JURY. SCOOPED BY THE GRAND PURY.

A COLD WAVE IS COMING.

Fulton and South streets of Friday morning iast about 0.50 when he heard five shots fired.

of Major Stephen L. Pettis, awoke this morning in her cell in the Tombs she was seemingly in better spirits than at any time since her imprisonment.

She was calmer, showed very little of that nervousness with which she has been continually affected, and manifested no disposition to shrink from the ordeal through which she knew she had to pass at the Coroner's inquest.

'She is beginning to realize her situation," said Warden Osborne to a resporter of The Evening Wohld, 'and, under the circumstances, I think that the presence of mind and coolness which she shows is something extraordinary. For the first time since she has been in the prison she took a respectable breakfast this morning, and seemed to be preparing herself for her first appearance before the public since the commission of her terrible crime.'

When she was visited by Dr. Chetwood this morning he remarked the great improvement in her appearance and declared his opinion that she would be able to stand the accitement of the COL. PELLOWS TOO PREVIOUS.

CORONER LEVY INDIGNANT. Coroner Levy was very indignant at the at-tempt which had been made to trespass upon his jurisdiction, as well as at the remark attributed to one of the District-Attorney's assistants, that coroners' inquests were only hippodroming affairs, and only served for advertising pur-

NOT DRUGGED THERE, THEY BAY, It is claimed that the house where it is alleged that Major Pettus escorted Mrs. South-worth three years ago after spending the even-ing at the American Institute Fair is located at the corner of Sixty-fourth street and Lexington

It is kept now, as it was then, by a Mme, Du-It is kept now, as it was then, by a Mme, Dumont, and is a handsome brown-stone building. It is there that Pettus drugged Mrs. Southworth, as the story goes, and accomplished her ruin. Mme. Dumont is a short, stout woman of fifty-five and wears a blende wig. Sie denies very vigorously that she has any knowledge of the matter and says that she would not know Pettus from Adam. She admits that she makes it a point of forgetting people who call at her house of an evening.

SWEARING AGAINST MRS. SOUTHWORTH swearing against Mrs. southwonth.

Edgar M. Johnson, of the firm of Hoadly, Lauterbach & Johnson, claims to have in his nossession an affidavit of Mr. Pollard, the partner of Pettus, in which he swears that he was present during an interview between Mrs.
Southworth and Pettus in the latter's private office in this city, when the woman promised that if Pettus would settle $100 a month upon her for life she would cease annoying him.
The affidavit further states that Pettus refused to do this, but offered to give her an allowance of $50, which Mrs. Southworth would not agree to.

EDITOR LABORUS USED A GUN.

But Editor Bickle Took His Second Whipping in Six Weeks Meekly.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 26, -J. H. Laborus. ditor of the Spirit of the Age, who, at Abbeville, Ala., on Saturday, shot and killed H. F. Bussey, of this county, has so far escaped capture. Laborus had written an article reflecting upon the character of fruit-tree dealers, and as Bussey was in the fruit-tree business he replied through the Albeville Times. The tragedy grew out of this controversy. On Saturday Bussey armed himself with a ristol and went to the Aos office in search of Laborus. The latter saw him coming and, grabling a stot-gun, fired first. Bussey's body was brought here for fired first. Bussey's body was brought here for burial to-day.

Camenos, Mo., Nov. 25.—Editor John C. Bickle, of the Duity Vidicator, insected an article in his paper Saturday last attacking the character of A. C. Weaver and his wife, the latter a dressmaker of the village, the latter a dressmaker of the village. This morning Mrs. Weaver purchased a rawhide and stationed betself in front of the Post, Office. About moon Bickle accessed, and Mrs. Weaver, drawing the whip, gave him a severe thrashing before a large crowd. This is the second whipping Bickle has received in the past six weeks.

MR. BUSSEY ON PENSIONS

He Reviews His Own Work and Defends the Kaufman Decision.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26, -Cyrus Bussey, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, has submitted to secretary Noble a report of the operations of his office in the adjudication of pension claims that are appealed from the decisions of the Commissioner of Pensions. At the beginning of the last fiscal year there were pending 180 appeals, last fiscal year there were pending 180 appeals, During the year 3,108 appeals were filed, multing a total of 3,288 cases. Of this number 1,388 were considered and distosced of as follows: Appeals in which the Pension Office was sustained, 1,176; reversed, 44; appeals reconsidered by Pension Office, 100; appeals dismissed, 48.

Judge Bussey argues at some length in support of his decision in the Kaufman case, in which the applicant received a pension although dishonorably discharged from the service. He calls attention to the fact that the pension laws still contain many defects, and in conclusion recommends that the Board of Pension Appeals be increased to six members.

---Bargains for Thanksgiving Week, Vogel Brothers, of Broadway and Houston St. patriotic oration, and patriotic songs were sung by John Connolly and John Drew.

Occomman Principle of Chest, liver, kidner and rhequal in and he was at once placed upon the stand. He testified that he was standing at men and boys at greatly reduced prices. ***

NELLIE'S MESSAGE.

Miss Bly Reports Her Arrival at Brindisi on Schedule Time.

Depyright, 1880, by The Press Publishing Company (New York World)

BRINDISI, Italy, Nov. 25. - I reached Brindisi across the Continent. The railway journey was tedious and tiresome, but I received who had been apprised of my coming. In a few hours I will be on the bosom of the Mediterracan. I am quite well though somewhat fatigued. I send kind greetings to all friends in the United States.

"HAPPY JACK" GALE OUT.

Denman Thompson and His Old Actor

Have a Falling Out. Walter Gale, who has long been associated with the part of "Happy Jack," the tramp with the wonderful grave-yard cough in "The Old Homestead," is no longer with Uncle Joshus Whitcomb. Mr. Gale says he was fined $50 for that Emin, with Selim Bey, seven offices and sixty-five people, arrived there Feb. 17. The next day Lieut. Stairs arrived with his column from the litori.

Selim asked for time to allow the Equatorial troops and their families to assemble at kayali. This was granted. By April Stanley had 280 able-bodied men.

A month after Selim's denarture he sent a letter stating that rebels, officers and everybody were manimous to depart April 10 for Egypt under Stanley's escort.

The absence of Emin's authority became apparent April 5, when the l'asha told Stanley that only a few out of 10,000 expected would accompany him. Still, Emin wanted to wait for them.

Stanley then took matters into his own hands, and nipped all conspiracies in the bud by threatening the malcontents with annihilation, flogging some and putting others in irous.

On the 10th he started, having about 1,500 persons, including 350 newly enrolled native carriors. On the 12th he was stricken with a severe illness which nearly proved fatal.

An intercented letter from Selim revealed another plot to attack the expedition, but nothing more was heard from him.

Then follows a glowing description of the nore was heard from him.

Then follows a glowing description of the alley of the Semilk- and an encounter with the Narasmas, in which no one was scriously in-

Swindled with Bogus Ball Tickets. Edward Kemp, of No. 58 William street, reported to Mayor Grant yesterday that he had seen induced to buy tickets for a ball of the Pilgrim Association, to be given at Florence Hall, Second avenue and First street, at $1 cach, on the representation that the Pilgrima were employees of the Mayor's office, and which hall was never given. The Mayor told Mr. Kemp that he had been swindled, and sent the tickets that he had been swinded, and sent in the teacts to the Februs Department with a request that the swindlers be arrested if possible. The sale of hogus ball telects is a very common swindle, especially about election time. A recently defeated cand date for Alderman said after the election that during the canvass he had more than four hundred ball tickets.

Fatal Steel Works Explosion. PITTERURO, Pa., Nov. 26.-An explosion at quesne this morning killed two men. William Marshail. Hight superintendent of the wire mil. and a man named Cooper. Several others were injured. the Alleghany Bessemer Steel Works at Du-

Electricity Destroys Thousands of watches. PAILLAND NON-MAGNETIC Watch will run on a dynamo. Bold by all jewellers.

2 O'CLOCK.

500 LIVES LOST.

The Steamship India Goes to the Bottom of the Ægean Sea.

sengers Survive the Calamity. Many Mohammedan Pilgrims Were on

Only the Captain and Two Pas-

INTECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD, 1 LONDON, Nov. 26 .- A despatch from Con-

Board the Ill-Fated Vessel, stantinople says: "The Turkish journal Soodet reports that the steamship India, with 500 Mohammedan pilgrims on board, has been sunk in the Ægean Sea, and that of all on board only the captain and two passengers survive."

WALKED THE PLANK

Life-Saver Tom Sampson No Longer Guards the Sub-Treasury Doors.

"Capt. Tom "Sampson, whose familiar figure has so many years haunted the halls of the Sub-Treasury Building in Wall street, is no more to be seen in his accustomed seat. He has been made to walk the plank. "Capt. Tom " handed in his resignation yes-BRINDISI, Italy. Nov. 25.—I reached Brindisi terday by request of Assistant Treasurer Ellis this morning on time after an uneventful trip A. Roberts, who is in charge of the Sub-Treasury, and it was at once accepted. Thomas Higginson was appointed in Sampson's place, and to-day stands guard over Uncle no end of courtesy from the railway officials. | Sam's millions in the vaults of the old stone fort. Capt, Sampson was a good officer and a brave man. He holds numerous medals presented to him in recognition of his services as a life-saver. and was esteemed for his clear head in hunting down criminals. Although over sixty-two years old he has been until recently very active. He has held his position as chief detective in the Subhis position as chief detective in the Sub-Treasury since May, 1863, with the exception of a short period when he went over to the Stock Exchange.

Capt. Sampson was born in England, Feb. 8, 1827. For many years he has followed the business of a detective, and at one time was a member of the Metropolitan Police under Chief Matsell, and made an envisible record as an efficient and fearless officer.

But Capt. Eampson's record extends beyond his professional career. He was a life-saver as well. On June 15, 1854, white bathing near Fort Hamilton, his attention was attracted by the cries of persons on shore to three boys who Whitcomb. Mr. Gale says he was fined $50 for arriving late one night, and was so mad that he resigned.

Denman Thompson says that he had tolerated Mr. Gale for a long time, and would not put up with his "weakness" any longer. Mr. Thompson is substantiated by others.

Mr. Gale was thought a great deal of by Uncle Joshus Whitcomb, who lobked upon him as a special protege, but it is said that Mr. Thompson's patience was very severely taxed. Of course Messrs. Thompson and Gale are at present at loggerheads, but it may safely be prophesied that the former relations will be resumed. Gale makes a Happy Jack whom it will be dimcult to replace, and Mr. Thompson likes him.

EMI'S INDIFFERENCE.

Stanley Writes Another Letter to President Mackinnon.

President Mackinnon. of the Emin Relief Committee, London, hes received another letter from Henry M. Stanley, which was dated Aug. 18, at the camp at Kizinga Uzinja, Stanley says that Emin, with Selim Bey, seven offices and sixty-five people, arrived there Feb. 17. The next day then, but his column

COWHIDED AN EDITOR.

Mrs. Weaver Finds More Satisfaction in a Rawhide Than in a Libel Suit.

INPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 26.—Editor John C. Bickle, of Cameron, Mo., who recently inserted in his paper an attack on the character of A. C. Weaver and his wife, was cowhided in front of the post-office yesterday morning by Mrs. Weaver.
A printer selzed Mrs. Weaver and tried to take the whip from her, but bystanders interfered and freed Mrs. Weaver, who renewed the attack. attack.

Finally Bickle caught the whip and started to run away, when Mrr. Weaver hit him on the head with a rock.

This is the second whipping Bickle has received in six weeks.

Reed Leads for the Speakership. SEPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 26.-There is every prospect that the struggle for the Speakership will be brief. The only evidence of direct work is for and against Mr. Reed. He is exceedingly confident, and if the Eastern men stand firmly by him, there will be little doubt of his election.

Callaghan Replies to Powderly.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. I Powderly's allegation that the Reading Railroad Company is behind his charges. "I would ask the Reading Railroad to publish my letter to them when I returned their free pass. See how that will explode Powderly's humbug." he says.

Smith Does Glover in Nine Rounds. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] San Francisco. Nov. 26. - In a fight to a finish last night at the rooms of the Occidental Athletic Club for a purse of $800 Frank Gloger, formerly of Chicago, was easily knocked out in nine rounds by Billy Smith, of Australia.

---Mayor Chapin's Salary Raised. Mayor Chapin's salary has been increased to $10,000, the Brooklyn Aldermen passing a resolution to that effect yesterday. In 1877 a law was passed leaving the subject of salary in the hands of the Aldermen.